Dear parents and carers,

Re: Oxford Reading Buddy and Reading Rocks

We would like to remind you of an amazing resource that we have available for your children to use at home.

All children have access to a website called 'Oxford Reading Buddy'. Each child has their own account and login which they have been given by their teacher. When the children log in, they have access to lots of different books and stories which are pitched at the right level for each individual child. The children also love to complete the fun quizzes at the end.

These books and stories supplement the reading we do at school as well as the reading books that we send home. If you have any questions or do not have your child's login then please contact the class teacher via the school office (office@williamharding.school).

The children also take part in a half termly 'Reading Rocks' competition where the children can earn points for using Oxford Reading Buddy, reading their home reading book three times and looking after our books at school. The class with the most points get a special prize, that the class chooses, such as an extra break time.

If you have any questions about the reading schemes we use at school then please contact your class teacher.

Kind regards,

Miss Hubbard
